Cleveland, OH – March 13, 2020 – Compass Self Storage, a member of the Amsdell family of companies with self storage locations across the United States, is offering first month rent free for students and families affected by coronavirus. As this virus forces colleges and universities to have students quickly move out of their dorms, Compass Self Storage wants to ease the stress of the situation by offering their first month of storage rent-free.

“In this time of uncertainty where things are rapidly changing, Compass Self Storage wants to ease some of the stress by providing storage space at a reduced cost to those in need. Our store teams are ready to assist and make this part of the move as quick and easy as possible,” stated Todd Amsdell, President.

Compass Self Storage is also taking extra precautions to closely follow guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other local and national health organizations. They are increasing the frequency of regularly scheduled cleanings and sanitization efforts across their stores. They are also recommending employees take precautionary health measures, including frequent hand washing and staying home when sick.

Compass Self Storage offers a full line of moving and packing supplies, as well as moving service options, to make it a one-stop solution for anyone moving their home or needing extra storage space for their business.
